

GBLT Receives €275,000 Order with Office Supply Retailer

Toronto, Ontario, Canada - Dueren, Germany - September 24, 2020 - GBLT Corp. (TSXV: GBLT I OTCQB: GBLTF I FSE: 4G9) (“GBLT” or the “Company”), a global distributor of mobile energy solutions and Personal Protective Equipment (“PPE”) products, is pleased to announce that it has received an order from a French office supply company Alterburo for €275,000. GBLT will deliver its unique Dr. Senst brand of protective masks and anticipates follow-up orders from Alterburo upon full turnover of this first order.

As a result of the COVID-19 pandemic, GBLT entered into the PPE industry in March of this year to match demand from existing and new clients for products such as masks, sanitizers and thermometers. Due to sustained demand from the existing distribution network, GBLT has relaunched its Dr. Senst brand of products to offer distributors and retailers a branded, trusted solution.

“Our Dr. Senst brand of personal protective equipment is quickly becoming a trusted brand for distributors to offer their clients as demand for face masks continues to grow throughout Europe due to both changing consumer behavior and government regulations,” said Dr. Thilo Senst, CEO of GBLT Corporation. “Consumers are now becoming more conscious of protecting themselves against COVID-19 through simple actions such as wearing a protective mask. Coupled with government regulations throughout the world requiring masks in public, distributors such as Alterburo are looking to brands such as Dr. Senst to offer their clients to provide a sense of security.”
